All of my friends are stars, some of them just happen to be celebrities...And someone has to launch the Skype cam - Right? In the name of traditions and breaking traditions, I decided to infuse a bit of technology into my most recent interview with my dear friend and randomly hilarious, Jason Stuart. A true "Foodie" and a lover of all things Thanksgiving he was happy to share his unnerving "addiction" to... MUSHROOMS as his "Turkey Day" must have. As an added twist, we went Skype to Skype and as with any good funny man, he was full of surprises! Happy Thanksgiving from the two of us..Well technically the 3 of us.
